

Name _____

Hour _____

Printing History & Processes

1. Johannes _____ invented movable type in _____.
2. Lithography means _____.
3. List three of the major printing processes: a. _____
b. _____ c. _____
4. Which of the printing processes has only serrated edges and is a intaglio printing process?

5. Which of the printing processes can print on any substrate? _____
6. Which printing process uses rubber and plastic plates? _____
7. Which of the printing processes is pressureless and plateless printing? _____
8. Which of the processes is used to print stamps, money, invitations and announcements? _____
9. Thermography is also called _____
10. The process that burns an image through a number of sheets at the same time is called? _____
11. Which process is used for printing long runs of millions of copies? _____
12. Which process would be used to print plastic bags, drinking straws, boxes? _____
13. Relief printing is _____ surface printing.
14. Intaglio printing is _____ surface printing.
15. List two advantages of Gravure printing: a. _____ b. _____
16. Which of the printing processes puts down the most when printing? _____
17. Define Substrate: _____
18. Impressing an image to achieve a raised surface without printing is called:

19. Cutting of paper, paperboard, or other material with regular or irregular designs is called:
