

Course	Agricultural Science II
Unit	Supervised Agricultural Experience
Lesson	Designing an SAE
Estimated Time	90 minutes or two 50-minute blocks

Student Outcome

Design a Supervised Agricultural Experience program.

Learning Objectives

1. Explain factors for selecting an SAE program.
2. Explain goals for an SAE program.
3. Explain how to plan and develop an SAE.
4. Identify recognition and rewards achieved for SAE programs.

Grade Level Expectations

Interest Approach

You will need a blindfold and a clear area. Ask for a volunteer. Take the volunteer out in a hallway and blindfold him or her and have the rest of the class find a spot in the clear area. Have the students in the clear area hold their arms out from their body, making a T. Lead the volunteer in to the area, spin him or her around five or six times, and ask the person to walk to the end of the room without hitting anything. If the person bumps into someone, he or she must start over. NOTE: Assign an assistant to make sure the blindfolded person does not bump into anything dangerous or fall down.

Discussion questions:

- ☐ Do you think anyone could make it across the room?
- ☐ What were the obstacles to crossing the room?
- ☐ What are some ways you could have avoided the obstacles?
- ☐ How does the activity relate to an SAE?

Starting an SAE without any forethought is like trying to cross a crowded room blindfolded. Use the discussion to introduce the topics of planning and goal-setting and their importance to having a successful SAE.

Communicate the Learning Objectives

1. Explain factors for selecting an SAE program.
2. Explain goals for an SAE program.
3. Explain how to plan and develop an SAE.
4. Identify recognition and rewards achieved for SAE programs.

Objective 1  At this point many students may not know what type of SAE project they want to have. For a list of example exploratory SAEs, see "Exploratory SAE Opportunities" in Chapter 8 of Agricultural Education Program Planning Handbook for Missouri Schools. Closure/Summary	When selecting an SAE, students should look for one that is compatible with their current situation and resources. The key factors to consider are experiences and educational background, personal interest, financing, career interest, encouragement and support, and availability of resources. Setting SMART goals allows for evaluation of the SAE and promotes progress, but only if students work toward reaching their goals. For students who design their SAE carefully and follow through on their plans, there are many opportunities to receive awards and recognition for a successful SAE program.
