

Project 1:

Write a program that has an array with 5 integer values. Ask the user to enter the values and then redisplay the entire array.

Project 2

Write a program that has an array of 10 zip codes (you define the zip codes). Define a parallel array that has the costs for those 10 zip codes. Ask the user to enter a zip code, make sure it exists in the array, and then display the shipping cost